

In Da Sky!

By Matoru

I can't sit back I just wanna cry. I remember those days with you by my side. and all the pain that you had went through. God took you away, and I still miss you.

We can't reverse the hands of time, so I'm just gonna pray for you mom. You made a man without no father. and now dat you gone I just wanna cry. He takes the best I just don't know why -

3x in the sky - But one day will ~~we~~ meet again in the sky

Dear mom it's late I really miss you, and sometimes I wish I could just hug you and kiss you. You sons an man now I wish I didn't feel so alone, you was just a phone call away. But now the lord took you home, to come sit on ya throne. So many things I should've said even when you whip my butt for not making my bed, and for a long time I didn't understand why? But it was just to make me a man which you saw was inside. Last time dat you visit you just made me wanna cry because you told me something's dat hit home deep inside, like I'm old now I can't act like a kid. You ain't always gonna be there to bail me out like you did, and see mom. I wish I can reverse the hands of time and tell you I love you one million more times. It still wouldn't be enough now times is getting tough cuz when I got the phone call you died my heart just spilt up, and I'm sitting in a jail cell just botling it up, never got to say good bye. Thinking about it make me, but I gotta stay tough. and be able to stand up, cuz even though you not here you ~~wouldn't~~ went me to give up.

Remember mom when I was a kid and I'll say all these stupid things that I wish I never said, now I make my own bed I remember those butt whippers, struggling to make ends meet but still came home to ya cooking.

Good luck the women of my life, but everything he do is for the better, I just hope you alright!!
