

We Are Somebody

We have to act like "We are somebody"
And remember that this is prison, not a party
We are not here on some vacation retreat
Because apparently we could not cut it on the streets
We are here to pay society its debt
Then in the process become rehabilitated and correct
So we should embrace and savor this chance
To find our level and regain our balance
Out of this time we should get the most
Not die another death only to chase the same old ghost
Because one day we will escape the dominion
Hopefully to be looked upon with a favorable opinion
However that will be hard because of our history
Then again it will be easy if we first claim our victory
So through all this confusion, pain, disappointment, and hurt
We have to man up and put in the hard work
Stop wasting this precious opportunity
To once again become a productive member of society
Basically we have to think and act differently
If we want this world to treat us like "We are somebody"

The Wordist - WAM

Waw