Every once in a while there comes along a political figure that possess the ability to seduce the masses. Their approach is as smooth as water energizing everyone with a false sense of hydration. We thirst for this political hydration, and before dehydration can kick in, they crinch our political thirst with seductive politics. Bill Clinton was the master of this when it came to solutions in the African American communities. Here are "7" Thing Bill Clinton Did For African American Communities.

- 1.) President Clinton endorsed the idea of a federal "three strikes and your out law" which he advocated in his 1994 state of the union address.
- 2.) President Clinton received the $30 billion crime bill in August 1994 Democrats hailed it as a victory. The bill created dozens of federal capital crimes, produced many life sentences to individuals that were three time offenders.

(2.)

3.) President Clinton authorized more than $16 billion for state prison grants.

4.) President Clinton launched a drug war that was not thought possible, claiming many young African American lives.

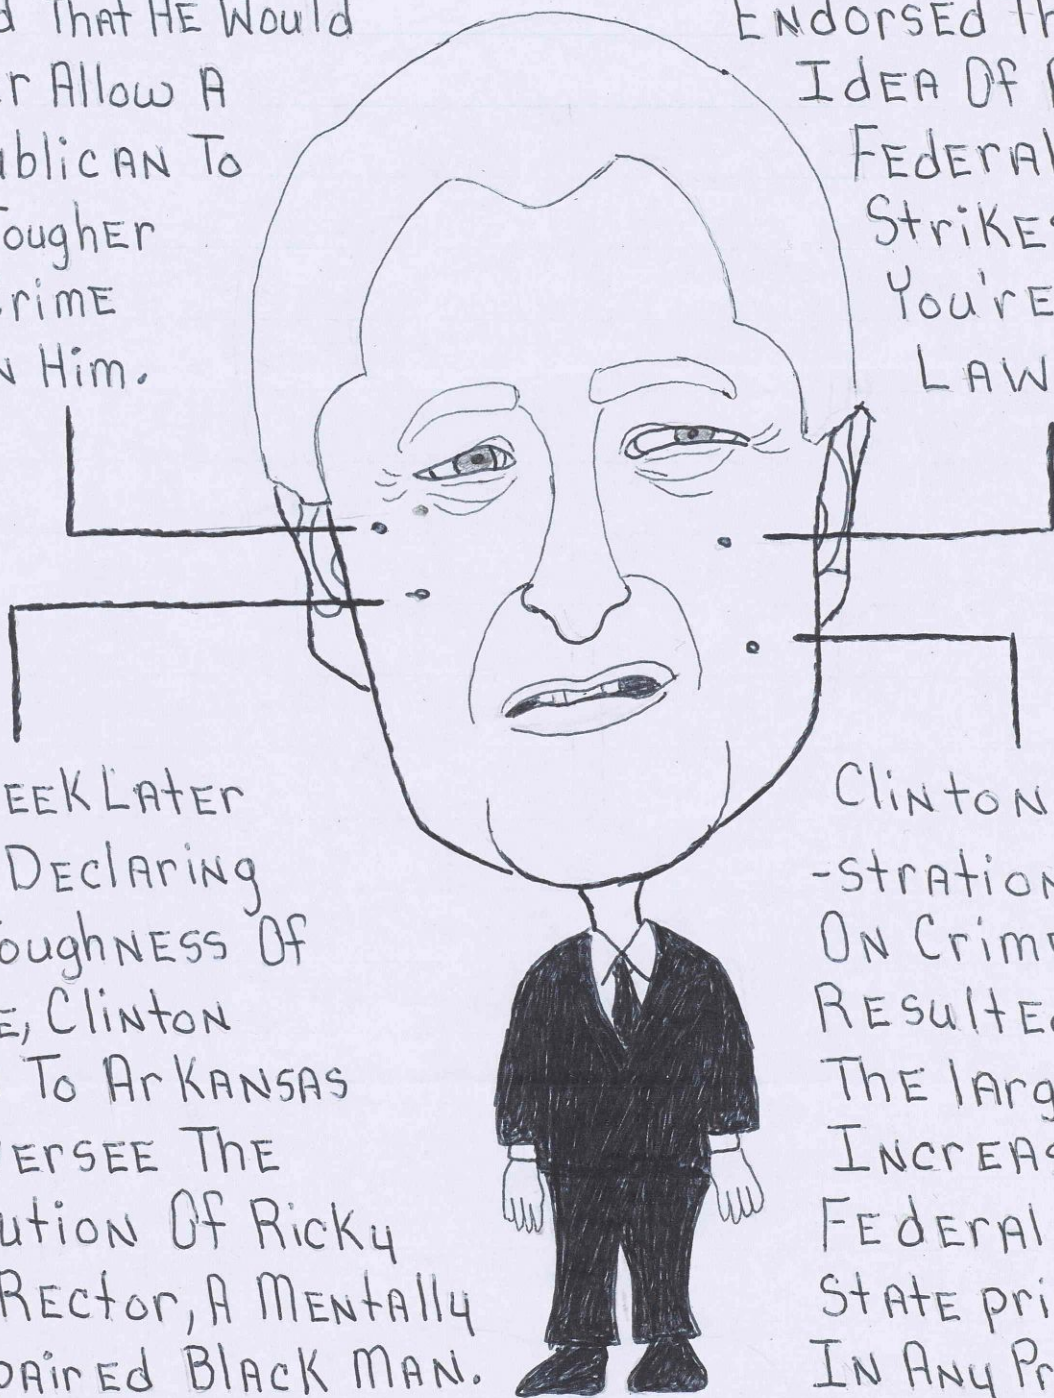

5.) President Clinton signed into law the Prison Litigation Reform Act (P.L.R.A.) in 1996. This anti-prisoner law works to limit prisoners access to the federal courts.

6.) President Clinton tenure in Washington slashed funding for public housing by $17 billion (a reduction of 61 percent) and boosted corrections by $19 billion (an increase of 171 percent) effectively making the construction of prisons the nation's main housing program for the urban poor.

7.) President Clinton Administration's 'tough on crime' policies resulted in the largest increases in federal and state prison inmates of any president in American history.

IN 1992 PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE BILL CLINTON
VOWED THAT HE WOULD NEVER ALLOW A REPUBLICAN TO BE TOUGHER
ON CRIME
THEN HIM.

WHEN HE WAS ELECTED CLINTON
ENDORSED THE
IDEA OF A
FEDERAL THREE STRIKES AND
YOU'RE OUT
LAW.

A WEEK LATER
AFTER DECLARING
HIS TOUGHNESS OF
CRIME, CLINTON
FLEW TO ARKANSAS
TO OVERSEE THE
EXECUTION OF RICKY
RAY RECTOR, A MENTALLY
IMPAIRED BLACK MAN.

CLINTON ADMINI-
-STRATION'S 'TOUGH
ON CRIME POLICIES
RESULTED IN
THE LARGEST INCREASE IN FEDERAL AND
STATE PRISONERS
IN ANY PRESIDENT
AMERICAN HISTORY.
