Whats Worsen, The Rat, Or The Pig?

By: HONEST Willie Worley Jr.
Prison Intelligence Journalist

Well Well, both of them ARE products of NEUROTIC behavior. Both HAVE A DESIRE to be DECEITFUL AND DISHONEST to the DEGREE of BEING disloyal to THEMSELVES AS WELL AS their FELLOW PRISONERS or PRISON WORKERS. PEOPLE HAVE lost touch with the TRUE MEANING of the two words that gives the DISCRIPTION of the RAT AND the PIG. THERE ARE PEOPLE that WORK AT PRISONS that do what they SUPPOSE to do, AND NOT what they WANT to do. Those who do what they WANT to do disturb the NATURAL DYNAMICS of PRISONERS REHABILITATION. THEY CAUSE CONFUSION within the PRISON SYSTEM, making PRISONERS IRRATIONAL thus CREATING A DANGEROUS ENVIROMENT for the NATION UPON PRISONERS, RELEASE. LET ME give you the TRUE NATURE of the COINED NAMES the PIG, AND the RAT in hopes that you CAN distinguish the two ON EYESIGHT

The Rat

Many people use the word "Rat" loosely in describing one's actions of being disloyal towards them. Once upon a time people who undermined those who were loyal to them by incriminating them could be considered a "Rat". No matter if he did this to save himself or out of downright hate. Now Rats have evolved into a fashion. They have manipulated any and all activities they have engaged in, on every field. Rats have implemented their ways and actions with ease in all walks of life.

They will tell whatever they can whenever they can. Rats think the Pigs are their friends because they both share these qualities with one another. Their missions are to seek and destroy. They have no remorse for their lies, deceit and dishonesty.

As a young friend of mine Xavier Thompson describes "Rat's disloyalness" as "Mouse Muzik". People will listen to something bad before they'll listen to something good. Rats' charm is always bad.

The Pig

The word Pig really don't have nothing to do with the person that is sworn to serve in protect. No matter if the individual does this in society or in an institution. It's the individual who aims to do more than his job. The individual that target whole races of people nationwide to harrass, arrest, or to retailiate against for many and any reason. Pigs are lazy and don't want to do their job, they depend on rats to lead them to what they seek. In prison settings Pigs got a saying. This saying assures the prisoner that he'll be back. If the prisoner did not come to prison, the pigs would not have a job. They cannot let this happen, Pigs devise patterns and practices that assure their jobs. This is why The Pig depends on the Rat

Other Information

Prisoners are a dying breed, rats are taking over, as I stated earlier, Rats behavior has become a fashion. No one wants to be called a Rat but a lot of people want to tell shit.
