Re: Governmental Intentional
Infliction of Oppressive Injustice

In year 2004 during intake transfer orientation at Coxsackie Correctional Facility, I asked the members of the Parole Board "I am appearing at the Parole Board in 2013, I would like to know whether the Parole Board consider significant circumstances of mitigating factors of childhood abuse?"

The parole Board member said "No because not every child who was abused kill some body."

This is an unlawful capricious and arbitrary practice of discrimination. Because no two people are the same, and are affected the same by a abuse, and discrimination is when you treat or judge a person on basis other than their individual merits.

Not every child was neglected, rejected, deprived, derogate and continue to be abused or falsely attested, have a learning disability was cut with glass, spit on, punched, stomped and stepped, and called ugly.

furthermore, white defendants had their conviction and sentenced significantly reduced to 2 to 6, 1 to 4, and 12 flat years for killings, due to consideration of their mitigating factors.

Not every abused child allow people to spit on them, kick, punch, slap, and stomp them as well as cut them with glass, stab them with a pen, Rob and take things away from them. Not every abused child get thrown in jail for 3 days for a crime they did not do, beat the charges at the grand jury, and not sue, also was almost rape at 12, harassed and neglected with out any support, living poor with a learning disability in a time of crack cocaine, violence crime, poverty, Aids and HIV, prostitution etc...

Not every abuse child is illegally incarcerated like me, without jurisdiction, had their mental state ignored, and tried without a valid indictment, and is serving life after 26 years, and was circumscribed of the amelioration of youthful offender treated based on an unconstitutional conviction. New York courts are terrorist and worst than ISIS. In this is inhuman punishment in violation of 5th, 6th, 13th 8th and 14th Amend Const. USA. Dumme
