

Blanket update

On 2 July 2019 I was moved to long term seg. They gave me 180 days.

On 8 July 2019 I got the answer to the 1st step for the grievance. It follows: "In response to your grievance, you were moved to the Gray unit on 2 July 2019 and received new linen. The issue in this grievance is no longer relevant. No further action required."

So I got both the blanket and mattress cover. I filed the grievance on 25 June 2019 and got moved 2 July 2019. That was 8 days without a blanket and mattress cover. For 8 days I slept with all my clothes. I am still cold, but I have a blanket. 😊 SGLY

Cover Letter

16 July 2019

Thank you for your kind words. My last essay was the Blanket essay of 26 June 2019. Enclosed is my "Blanket Update" above, the "Wildlife in Prison" essay and the "This is Prison" essay. Even though I got this list from someone else, by experience I found all of it to be true. In fact I could write short essays on each one of them. The wildlife essay is a take off of #15 and I could add more to it. For now this will suffice. I have no way to make copies in here of the Permissions sheet. Please send me more copies of it, as I am working on more essays. The more I write, the more ideas come to me. So I will write more. I hope you like these 3.

Respectfully

Stephen Russell
