Re: Real Life, Real news

0430 HRS. I've been awake for about 20 minutes. I did wake up early only because yesterday I didn't take a nap, although it was the Sabbath or the Seventh day which was Saturday I did some singing I did my push-ups and a few curls with my mattress but first I studied the word and keep busy. I was burnt out from the night before since I wrote 20 pages I have been telling my saga since late 2017. instead of in book form, I do daily epistles to the family, friends and for archives to keep a record of not just my feelings thoughts, actions, dramas to dramas but to be foremost truthful and to give account of the false and fraudulent defecation of my charature that seems to ~~mount~~^{mount} against me. In this house of mad men and I'm not just referring to some that are mentally ill, but call it what you wish, the stigma placed on you from (MH) Mental Health, is once always if you were placed into this program and labeled a Mental Health patient you will always be blamed for being ill! although a doctor can certify your

All News [#] Had No relevance to your current situation therefore you can be punished to the maximum to which is allowable by the rules for which you are or were accused of even knowing that you suffer from a thought process disorder diagnosis there is never any second or 3rd ~~opinion~~ opinion and it is almost 100% of the time not in your best ~~interest~~ interest it is my own experience and very well documented, that any explanation I have ever offered into my own illness with insight for which I've explained over and over again many times yet my word has always been void or moot yet if I remain silent, and stop any action on my behalf to advocate for myself by do people come running to offer assistance, you have to remember though until I took this course of action no one would hear a word I'd said or I was hurting their ears with my loud voice or I was in everyone's opinion mad, angry, hostile over my own objections to have to explain my mood or be appeasing to everyone when these same (ME) mother fuckers wish to hire unqualified personnel to deal with mentally ill patients, that's not a fault of mine, that is a failure of the state when the State of California places employees in a possession to treat inmate patients what are you saying, am I sick (MH) mentally ill and need care medically or am I a inmate prisoner that wears the same uniform as everyone else yet I am Surely Different I am having to follow and in here to some other than Normal work standard then everyone else from every other classification In almost 7 years now on a 10 year term for removing a American flag from a liquor store, Mind you that was my original arrest on this case which only perpetuated into a Deep State of legal and illegal law enforcement and injustice imposed apone myself as I do relize I am in prison yet everyone acts as if they are the Ruling authority weather it be the Dealer's on the yard to the Mental Health Staff to Medical. It isn't even so much the correctional Staff as the P.O.T.U.S. Said it's the Bad cops, I hear this all the time while some Pat themselves on the Back for doing a good Deed for one yet hate on another If you were to Relize this alone witnessed By others Showing partiality to one and not the other creats animosity among people people in general, Not just inmates, let alone a Mental patient Boy If I can become instantly upset over being Denied something as simple as My issue of Food If I question the server, Sometimes Not everytime But to be called Names First thing in the Morning over your Basic required issue for just sustainable life force, to be verbally Abused by Staff in My opinion Is Not a victim less crime It is a Abuse of power yet to speak about such things can and will cause further harm^W to yourself all that No reprisals, will be taken against you well that Is just a Statement or disclaimer in general yet while it Happens More often then Not, Staff often plot together to put a plan into action if your presents cause's to many Disruptions on the yard So you are removed for Safety and Security Reasons Labeled a trouble Maker as False Reports are entered in to the S.O.M.S. The offenders Management System there is Nothing strategic about the obvious It Sound's as If your say ing psalm, yet the California Dept. of Corrections and Rehabilitation's claim to Rehab or correct prisoners would Be a oxymoron, when your trying to Fix Someone whom you claim is Broken when the Fact of the Matter is The System

Is installing Broken employees and mental health, medical staff into a system that is severely flawed already only kicking the can further down the road the solution to these major issues (1) Being the best qualified people are those that have been there and done that, it's like the old (NA) Narcotics anonymous model of "one addict can best understand and help another addict, yet if you apply this to most every aspect of the criminal justice system you will see, it does work, I've sat in 100's of (NA) meetings and as a group of ~~similar~~ ^{similar} thinking peoples' whom have arrested there problem to the point of no longer using drugs nor alcohol, by giving yourself a brake you along with help from others suggestions as a group began to have some basic clarity if you are serious about having a problem if and only if you are willing to do something about it the thing that I see most in the prison setting with the prison population every where I've been, it never seems to change.

The help is only a Bandaid to a festering open wound that will never heal the state and its employ keep this as a on going

Delema always placing blame on its inmate population, you always see correctional staff setting around Bullshiting among themselves. If you have a issue to raise or you have need of some assistance ~~most~~ most of the time your meet with a almost why are you Bothering me ~~who~~ with this or hold on or let me check to make sure etc. excuses are like ass holes everyone has one their is nothing worse then to watch those whom are to be suppose to have the job of watching you and over an over again you see these inconsistancies occur Daily while it is not everyone yet. Those that are Doing these things create a good guy Bad guy situation, while winning favor over some of the inmate population. It always lead's to Desertion among's the Rank's of the already ~~divided~~ inmate population. let alone someone that has access to money all this issue become larger than life inside the walls of a housing unit where some kind of trust and truse between all the Nations of the inmate population have to reside together let alone try to place someone into a cell when they are Not compatable and

Forced By threat of Disiplinary action if they Do Not conform or follow a Direct order This has seem lead to the extreme including the Death of one of the prisoners Because they were Not able to Cohabitate. By My own experience as crazy as Everyone may write me off on paper I've had some cellies that were totally unable to function as far as sitting on there bunk all the Day long Rocking back and forth Mumbling to themselves with no want or Reason to speak Nor carry a conversation, how Unconfortable you might think that can be May I ask a question? How would anyone Feel about falling asleep ~~with~~ with someone in Any body's Room or house or Cell when your cell or Room or house Mate is a Complete Stranger. I wont use Names cause I've Been called them all My self and the issue I raise is Simple when you try to Make some one take a cell partner if they are Not wanting to and are forced will it's only a matter of time before things become Ugly, there will always be a pecking order in the prison population The Reason is Simple, when you have someone Doing life with out the possibility of parole and someone going home in 2, or 3, years who would have the upper hand? and if they are violent? oh Boy! I'm Not a cell Boss or a violent person My self yet If you look at all the files against me It looks like I'm a Mad man, yet if you were to do a close examination along with the other side of the story like mine, and me, My side is Not only Different But Puts everything into order and a very real perspective that without all the lies told and generated about me and My so called Behavioral Disorder? you would find that in fact I do know the people I talk about and the issues I raise are Real and the truth must be told at all cost, Not just for me But for the General population of the California prison System as a whole for me to better serve my prison community I only have to keep my integrity in perfect tact so that I My self can be above reproach even when I am accused of things I did not do. So if I have been asked to lie for someone or do something Unbecoming of that trade of mine, I will Not do it! and have lost so called friends over such issues but If I was to lie for someone or commit fraud in

Any case I would therefore know myself to be a liar and my whole life and story would be erroneous and void, while I can write about issues that would tend to upset me most I will remove myself from those settings as much as possible but in prison living in such close proximity to so many different nationalities there is always tension always just because most men are set in their own ways and are worldly wise and mad about their situation when some one has a year or less to do the worst thing you can do is go around talking about it, when you have someone that is never getting out and has nothing or no one out side resentment can just be natural and if it is a person prone to violence don't think for a minute that that man won't be a animal and take that person's shit just to what is said "fuck theirs off" and if you let them treat you in this way you'll be a punk or a bitch and where is your (MH) mental health treatment team, we all know theirs not here on the weekends, we hear about all the party's and the new years drinking and carrying on cause it is normal to hear conversations

By Staff about personal life, while they are talking among themselves even if you are not trying to hear, what would you have to do not to hear anything, while some will wish to be ingulfed into everything that said just like all that I have written about now or in the past is it even relevant you may wish to ask yourself what can be done about anything that not only concerns prisoners rights but man in general? My only answer to everything as far as prison life and politics and government the only reasonable solution to bring peace across the entire spectrum would be to realize that the man who was nailed to a tree oh so many years ago, that had the answers to all the world's problems well we know that because he had the answers he was hung and killed because not everyone then nor now wishes to hear the truth! Nor do they wish to understand God's will and why this country was once a blessing for all, now has so become a curse when you put human profit over God's basic laws, then elect men to lord over other men, it will always result in war! and only when the war becomes so overwhelming with pain & suffering that the masses will scream oh God please bring peace!

There is a old saying that go's what does a atheist say when he is shot? oh God! I've been shot! It might be funny it may not but these are the crude jokes, games, movies, video games, music, ect. That a lot of society are into these days I cant speak for television any more since my t.v. was taken and lost or stolen on 9-12-18 then after I proved it was in my cell the day I went to ad/seg for a crime that never happened I never received my T.V. even after I filed a appeal and won I was moved so many times from unit to unit to prison to prison that I lost the paperwork which was also in my cell and came up missing or disregarded along with art work stolen or thrown away or keep by staff or left out for anyone to scavenge through after whom ever rolls up your personal property and decides what you can and cant have while known to them that it will be months before you receive any kind of compensation for missing or lost and or stolen property their answer is always the same, It wasn't their we packed everything maybe your cellie kept it? placing the blame on everyone except those responsible for the missing items. It is common and well Known that if you put up resistance you will be smashed! and taken apart like your T.V. and sold for parts! It isn't even funny it's just the truth. My Poor Mother and sister whom I have worked there in their life and struggle as single women in the world still today to ask for another T.V. when prison staff were responsible for my stems up to and including the yard lieutenant that came to my cell and spoke out loud when I wanted him to see my things in my cell stated when he did come in to look, my "T.V. is on and working!" so that it's word along with his staff that was present along with everyone involved in this 21 year court sentence are all liars, thieves and scumbags using their color of authority to correct inmates of wrong doing even when they have done nothing wrong! They will keep to the lie to protect their fellow employees to keep themselves on the job. This is called corruption, racketeering, and is a Federal offence just think about it. If they hate you by making statements like death to all haters! well what are they saying? when you hate what they do to you and the way they treat you? So they in their own

Simple way are leading ^{you} to Death, this is the mission of the Devil him self, when a Man is Put in charge over another Man and cannot empathize with that person's issues then every 8, 16, 24 Hours Different Shifts come and go Can you See the Dilemma that takes place you have one person that is a Stickler for the Rules then you have another that will Bend the Rules and even another that will Brake the Rules there is Never Any consistant ~~and~~ plan of action yet the penalty for us is always going to be the Same I have No problem following Rules, laws, codes ect. But when those Rules laws Regulations, codes are only up held for some and not all and the Scales are Unbalanced your going to get very upset people, and a Man who is unbalanced can be very unpredictable in prison when some one has had enough 1 of 2 things occure, In the thought Process, Suicide, or Homicide those are the only issues! If they were not then why are So many Mental Health Staff employed Monday thru Friday? and Not staggered all seven days a week why are you signing a Form for treatment If you are working a program and have insight into your illness? These answers and more are simple! The State has the public convinced that everyone in prison is a criminal even those we are finding out more and more are wrongfully convicted or set-up lied about, I can say for myself I am not guilty of the things I was charged with and I've been convicted of because of lies told by mental health staff and state employees and the District Attorney's in my case. It was laughable in closing arguments in Lancaster California court when the D.A. held up a form and said the defendant had every opportunity to call witnesses in his case and to subpoena them to court! yet I gave names locations asked my public Defender's to talk to and bring to court yet the P.D. stated that they may hurt me more than help, when I told them how is the truth going to hurt? Because they are in prison and may say something against you when I tried to argue the point with him it fell on deaf ears cause don't you know the lawyer knows best I do believe they all work hand in hand while they are quick to convict it can take so much more time to reverse a verdict once your tried and already in prison you assumed guilty anyway and God help you if your at odds with any of the Staff or inmates you become one of two things a Soldier or a Mark and if your a Soldier you Fight to ~~Survive~~^{Survive} if your a Mark you dont care enough about yourself to even Defend you!

 So you become a ward of the State and a good little boy and a yes Man where ever you go! on the other hand as a Soldier you move about just as if you are on a battle field always prepared for anything as you exit your cell all the time, when that cell Door cracks your on your feet at attention in a fraction of a split second checking why your Door popped open. Not out of Fear But out of Readiness keyed into the everyday life of always watching your back and your surroundings cause you never know? all it takes is that once that one time someone else is having a Bad Day anything can happen and I've seen it to many times a Door cracks someone or two or 3 run in Regulate someone, come back out with property and close the cell Door behind them I'm a little bit older so I do know a lot of techniquies, a lot of kids Dont! will I teach them? No I'd rather show some one a skillful trade like how to draw, but 9 times out of 10 the younger ones want to know bad shit they would rather wear 150.00 dollar tennis shoes from the family then learn how to earn money, spending others hard earned currency is easy, yet I try to explain what are you gonna do when it all runs out? when you have nothing and no skills? to pay your bills? well its a hard lesson to learn let a lone teach, I have one old cellie here I'll be leaving behind when I leave here that way we shall never see each other again in the long run may be best since his welfare came to a end when his girlfriend died of a drug overdose and I left him last month on the yard at a 20¢ a hour job and catching bugs for some one to feed their pet for a couple of soups a day big money to a 35 year old man that dont even know nor care when he was born drugs have tweaked his brain so bad its almost like watching someone turn into a zombie, no thanks I'll pass I will ask as well will you put something into your only given body on this earth something someone else tells you to take, cause it will make you feel a certain way what happens when it dont do what they say? who then does anyone blame? just more to think about huh?
