

At night I shake my feet or rock my self to sleep which ever one you call it. so deep down I'm still a baby right? This thought just crossed my mind as I was frozen in time you can never go back or understand why you made the dumbest choice thinking it was smart.

Have you ever been 50/50? That's criminally insane, its the edge where you dont care the out come as long as you receive the gratification you meant or didnt think you would receive.

People call us crazy cause we get tired of news and start taking what we rightfully deserve, Not all of us deserve it or can take only till we are full but I mean the criminals with morals,

Have you ever met a criminal with morals? <sup>#2</sup> I bet you think that's impossible. We call it honor among thieves but some hate to think of it like that. It says you don't steal from me I won't steal from you, but anybody else is free game.

I know, I know the tie types are thinking well you both are stealing from me so that makes it wrong and I'm gonna hang you, in my opinion, (and yes I do know what a opinion means) is that your right to feel how you feel and so are we.

Most of us will not write the truth or admit the truth so as the spokesmen for us you have to take my word and opinion about the facts of our life. When begin to understand the role I play as a criminal I didn't like or respect the odds but the game doesn't stop cause the game is uneven.

In this life you either win or lose but you have to play the game. We beg, then beg after we beg enough we take. While in the mood of criminal acts (US) criminals had to make (and) our rules so nobody betray the rules of criminal.

Our code of conduct is sometimes so serious it leads to death no judge, or jury which has lead a few of us back here so we can get judged for our criminal codes. Inside our minds we were left with no choice which makes jail or prison less dramatic then empty stomachs or a bullet in the head.

Don't feel bad when one of us comes back try to understand why and be sympathetic without pointing fingers. And for god sake don't say what you wouldn't do in the same place because most of you would ~~be~~ be just a grave number.
