

Today Begins Forever

Today begins FOREVER for me my wife cried again on the phone with me OVER the 50 years the state ask me to accept Do I think about my life inside of this place?? yes but I got to begin Forever again all OVER OVER again.

I dont know if I'm going be alive in the years to come while stuck in this place. I dont think I will be able to see my mom again it may be my feeling but thats how I think, Now dont get me wrong I have faith that god has a plan for me the scary part is I dont know what it is,

Not knowing my my destiny makes me worry a lot because god brought me here I guess its meant for me to live my life in such this place.

I'm confused on why I deserve all this but I guess something led me to this. I'm like Job do I accept the good and not the bad?? I cant understand why this is my destiny or my fate but I dont believe in luck all things have there own purpose, staying focused is hard to do in this life but I'm still here so I got to deal with that right??

Not knowing what tomorrow brings is a hard pill to swallow in my eyes but I don't know. I talked to my wife today about becoming serious I think it was new things are we need it but I don't know.

Life is funny when you don't know what's to come but you got to sit and wait on forever. stay focused it will get greater later but sometimes I'm not sure.

I think about how everybody abandoned me but [REDACTED], my mom and family It's crazy everybody were to worried about them selves to be worried about me. My dreams are full of cages and bars and thats not funny if you ask me.

I wish I had a crystal ball so I could see my future. my dreams show me out but I hate that cause I wake up in this place a rather bad dream.

Time passes we all grow into the person we will be forever I just think about me and my kids, [redacted] and [redacted] are my world but I cant see them now that hurts constantly.

[redacted] claims she hates me but I dont know if thats true or false but I cant reach out to her she acts like a kid and that makes me sick to my stomach.
