

REDUCING OPERATIONAL COSTS

BY JAMES W. HARKLEROD

Let prisoners buy their own:

- (1) Pants.
- (2) Shirts.
- (3) Sheets.
- (4) Pillowcases.
- (5) Towels.
- (6) Blankets.
- (7) Jackets.
- (8) Coats.

After all, other states allow such purchases. And Florida already permits the possession of personal underclothes, socks and cold weather underwear.

In addition, prisoners would be permitted to use washers and dryers. A local business could provide these. Tokens and washing powder would be available from the canteen.

A simple, and easy, way to reduce the Department of Corrections operational costs.
