Power corrupts... The Supreme Court? Its decision[s] is nothing but an act of hypocrisy... nine Supreme Court justices expert in legal phraseology tangle the words of their decision[s] in such a way that lawyers can dilly dally over it for years — which of course they will continue to do

— Malcolm X

Early, Gerald; "The Muhammad Ali Reader"; Rob Weisbach Books, An Imprint of William Morrow and Company Inc.; New York, N.Y.; 1998; pp. 32-33

... when ethics and integrity are disregarded by the very persons sworn to stand for law and ~~principles~~ principles, the people MUST — especially innocent incarcerated people — expose and expurgate.

... legal professionals are apt to manipulate law, precedent, and policy for the sake of pifflingness or other unprofessional reasons even if it be to the underserving detriment of the accused.

... [judicial phraseology is] nothing more than decorated kickshaw meant to deceive.

— All quotes from Ennis' official filings with particular courts; and as laid-out in his 24 page piece (essay) titled "The Tone and Confidence of Innocence"

"devious minds think alike" court appointed public defender trial court judge appellate court judge supreme court judge prosecutor clerks and all connected bodies state and federal justice at low levels means no jobs at higher levels deny us, thus employ them

"devious minds think alike II" a judicial pyrrhic victory birthed of a private huddle in a chamber of esquire filth the price paid is irrecoupable Powers of the Universe having a field-day plotting their obliteration

"Don't Ask Stupid Questions"

The Powers of the Universe Is waging a war against earthly judicial bodies who will win

"The Intertwining of Detestation and Toleration"

This I say especially to all earthly legal professionals whom bathe in worldly doings

Only do I tolerate you to make your destruction a monumental spectacle I desire your constitution clearly as do you secretly

Your time to embrace righteousness has withered and dissipated

You may now cease in your paramount disingenuous exaltations in which were impeded long ago by lust of materialisms Prepare you all should for your sloven selves to be swayed by a lion's share of my sheep — that is, seven purple heisted sheep of volition still to give love and benedictions of doubt to ones I detest Let not your hope hover in clouds of chicanery when validation has been scribed in stars

It's my Universe and my sword is inconquerable law

Galactic intents I've stirred you'll never see nor wonder Technology you extol to invade my space is less than soupcon — it is the brunt of my heartiest laughter

Love is accosting you like pyroclastic flows of angry eruptions dominant for the sake of mercy to note

Morose and hate shall be vanquished with the wave of this mighty transcendent solar hand

* Hero

In "The Most Sanctified Poem Ever Written" back in August of 2020 I warned of specific outbursts

The Powers of the Universe has swore judicial authority as enemies of good people

Lawmakers, law enforcement and connected bodies will continue to be drastically assailed

Many will side with the people, realizing to quarrel with god as asinine

The immediate future eye see as provided by The Universe shall cause recent time (as of July 3rd, 2022) to pale in comparison regarding pre-war attacks

Those whom shoot now will saunter a hero gait in the minds of innocent fooled taxpayers

Let The Powers (god) not even contemplate a scintilla of mercy

And those whom see god a dog, let them a hero prove dog may be buried with its master — yet The Powers continue Its revenge

"Special Delivery Prosperity"

I am not your caged bird wit' happy songs More like a crime~~street~~ cool cat prowling corridors of injustice delivering asperity and shock truth

Judicial characters can't fix their minds to tell me truth can't be taken in good faith

My sincerity is too deep; "he must be verily innocent" I heard them not say but think "His correspondences are bold and consistently disrespectably elegant"

Even more I'm heedless of judicial procedures since discovering so too were you

"Sorrow Encouragement" on the inside it's popular for many to write about how sorry they are memory lane or woe boulevard is where you find them loitering the institution allow agencies in only if they promise sorrow food seas of saturated blue trucklets eagerly sharing stories of grief, regret, and religious recall when i rocked the boat wit' mighty confidence and liery writings dozens on the inside and out was scared to death and/or kept a distance

"Stop Talkin' to Me" so you telling me your god don't care of sneaky judicial ~~maneuvers~~ leading to prison of innocent ones?

so you telling me god still love you though you're a party to ~~purposefully~~ unfair judicial proceedings?

so you telling me you can go to religious gatherings and pray away your due ~~shaming~~?

so you telling me you believe god, in knowing your judicial record, listen to your prayers?

you ~~REALLY~~ stupid!

"eyesee" eyesee brutality, destruction, and pestilence it's been creepin' for quite some time now eyesee twin natural disasters and a scandalous trust in the people eyesee political bluff no longer working... the incipient war of the masses with ~~naught~~ to lose, the gambit of judicial/government establishments was a foolish one eyesee suits and lies being shed and shorting eyesee futsch eyesee shock in the blinded when they realize who's fighting on whos side

"Unworthy"

escorted into a room of injustice i long to exhibit The Universe's position — "god hate you!... you are not worthy my audience" leal deflects dishonesty get from me i beseech The Universe to do you damage this court was built on unstable foundation law schools that reared you are a sham and shame they are not worthy my audience they are not worthy my matriculation chambers of injustice centers bleed conspiracies your ignoble bench warmer is more like it adjournd is judicial personnel's absolute being none of you oaks are worthy of my audience by: Emma Peterson

Still fighting your case — you have no win I heard ~~em~~ say

Yes, still — as long as Sphinx gaze Giza plateau I will expose and ~~draw~~

And how does a dippy one who know nothing but to quail define win

As long as Sphinx gaze Giza plateau your petit wind pledge relation to courts as you're one in the same in low morals

You're one in the same in high deception

Is it not evident such prosody as provided me by The Powers brings dirt causing troubles of judicial authority when exactly directed

Evident to some it'll never be as long as Sphinx gaze Giza plateau

Perhaps the question ought be put to earthly judicial / political bodies: ~~still~~ think you can win a war with God (The Powers)

"Special Interest Warrior"

(Lobbying for the flogging of political authority)

Warrior: The most high force that created all things in the entire Universe, am I not a favorite? Do I not truly love and appreciate my place in The Universe? Do I not truly love all aspects of The Universe? Have I not a gentle heart?

The Powers: Indeed, you are about all these things and more and an outstanding soul as conveyed by a messenger sent in the year of 20 and 16 as years calculated by earthly figures of the land in which you dwell.

Warrior: It is those very figures, that is, power figures of this earth, in which I wish to see destroyed as they are beside themselves at great degrees. This is evident by my incontinent though I've broken ~~not~~ the laws of this land as laid-out in their judicial process. Then one can imagine how many others have met their good fate — multitudes upon multitudes more. Further, there's too many persons of particular professions whom believe they have the right to articulate reasons of state — the hows and whys of such; they've become absolutely positive of creations of Universal Wonders. They speak of such as if they themselves are gods, yet they love easily escape them; they dream of such as prestige and politicalness. They are Machiavellian in ways they use to fool the masses. Dear Powers, never would I beset such crucial condescension unless after assessments of the godly eyes in which were bestowed me by The Universe.

The Powers: You needn't explain yourself further as your one-of-a-kind heart is known by The Powers. If this is the position you take then you'll be granted your desires. And too The Universe is clear that your disdain is beyond political/judicial authority; you despise people in their all around soul assumed nature. Most people have become questionable in character it seems. If not most, then there are a good number of people whom are questionable in character whom then disseminate ideology by way of several layers of so-called technology — mainly the privileged upper caste do this. This entire planet has been infected by such. As you're fully aware, such pestilence as you seek to defacinate the threat to the world would be as such that many many innocent persons, including children, will find themselves victims of this looming destruction. Scenes will be gruesome. You'll be deeply saddened as others whom may or may not have a understanding of long term benefits of these things. Again, your heart in all its uniqueness is known by The High Powers. The destruction and hurt to come, especially of children, will bring untold dismay to your person. Still you waiver not as you know the good to eventually come as consequence. As an addendum of these things, The Universe can't guarantee that your own demise will not occur being the level of destruction to achieve what you seek will consist of natural disasters resulting in, in some cases, unpredictable outcomes. Though still The Powers of the Universe will prioritize life on the earth for you until at least there's a fulfillment of divine efforts in which some may see and record so as to pass down what otherwise may never be believed.

Your understanding of these things is solid.

Warrior: It is — and a departure from this place brings me no worry, for I am governed by a amazingly good mind of The Universe and long ever better things after passing from here.

The Powers: Quite so. You also are aware that what you seek has already begun — especially since the year of 20 and 20 based on what you've known should occur for quite some time. Your thoughts are embroidered within the fabric of The Cosmos.
Your disgust with earthly processes as in IVF, PGD and other ~~it~~ items that has persons in pure fantasy of bending nature to their wants, plays far beyond what many so-called sophisticated scholars of the world would call "the observable universe". You lobby in spiritual formal writings. The Powers hear you and stands with you as your position can never be vitious in such matters. And though the world will make its trek around the Sun many times during this disaster-filled period, times of pleasantries, in which will last for tens of thousands of years, will eventually unfold. A sense of your progenies will be the greatest on the planet. And because you are a favorite of The Powers, and lies and trickery have never become you, The Powers of the Universe are at your command; Shiva is at your command. Your sanskrit thought is undeniable.

"Senator"

So now you believe laws you promote need not align with what the people want in contrast the people need not honor your office

Senator, recently there's been an increase of threats against judges

Senator, you've taken impudent pride in writing laws judges must abide by — laws wrought by presumptuousness Recall for sure the grounds adjacent your home is fair grounds for the surly bosses whom once trusted you "Mr. Senator, come out and have a few words with us as to why our wants are locked away in your snob-type closet"

"Oh dear, they're protesting without picket signs" — that's because they've learned to not flout according to Senate rules

they now flout based on whim born of emotions the people kept telling you and telling you "just do what the majority want" you chose a photoacized state Mr. Senator how many of the majority insist red-tout and when mayhem comes the people will have already clocked your number and hiding place

"Extend Infamous Hypocrites" one little, two little, three little...

Dred Scott: blacks could never be U.S. citizens four little, five little, six little...

Eugenics: some should not be allowed to reproduce seven little, eight little, nine little...

Roe: our previous decision was stupid; females have no rights

There should be no talk of 10, 11, 12, or more as nine has been plenty to prove maniacs govern us

Pay attention, not just taxes

Their loved ones ought soon be paying respects

"don't fool yourself"

a poem dedicated to noisome earthly judicial authority; especially those whom are systematic to the involvement of innocent persons

don't fool yourself

your prayers wither to nothingness immediately after utterance the deity you praise has never been your actions are opposite edicts you swore to uphold

don't fool yourself

you've lugged long trips on wagons traveling touted streets penitence is your prized position when reform makes headway and you dare assume you are in line with some god (LOL) — don't fool yourself in passing you'll discover the god you claim wants nothing to do with you — now gather your judicial prestige and go!

"From the Underground Case Docket Vault"

Tumblers and CO's V. State and Corrections Department the solon of ohio faces their pet fear unlikely parties now poised in concert one of many poses from a big picture another epic for future rhapsodies

Police and career criminals V. prosecutors and judges the solon of ohio faces eradication the boys in blue avert betrayal they have numbers of all ex-affined whom threw them under the bus (the numbers were fabricated by former numbers; the bus was jam-packed moving at mach-speed)
