

A message to my enemy !

You dare to come with no invitation.
No authorization for inbound incursion,
to deprive from my peace and joy,
dared to leave me in degradation,
with nothing left but just condemnation.

It's a sleepless night and my thoughts are revolving, going in circles I feel stuck and I wonder when I'll collapse, thoughts are revolving like the chamber of a .357 on a Russian roulette, wondering when the bullet will puncture my brain...

Are you aware of my sleepless nights?
Of course you are, you seize the opportunity and siege my mind to turn it against myself; what makes you think you can come to destroy me, without putting up a fight, without standing up.

I understand who you are, you're the master of planting seeds of doubts, but I am confident that I can face anything I'll not let you take everything that was designed with mathematical precision.
I am in the frontline of my own battle:
Fighting to the end.
