Shake down by Earl Milton JR

Wake up! Get up! Come out! We are going to look all through your belongings. And we are not going to put things back how they were. What are you going to do about it? You are in the custody of the Judicial system. Shook down but not shook up. Because I look up and look forward. With the fore knowledge that this chapter will end one day. Even if it's by the grave. I hope to walk out of the front door, if I'm allowed to make it. This faith can't be shook because I'm founded on the Rock of Ages. Anchored in the Lord. Covered by my Maker. Baptised with His blessing. It's just a lesson to never take your liberty for granted. Your freedom is a privilege. Protect it with right living and enjoy good living. Use the sense that you were given. Stick to your principles. Choose better values. Unless you want to risk a shake down. Unless you want to get the pat down. Awaken while you have this moment of pause to think things through. Because everyone doesn't get an act two. How you act is a matter of individual choice. One choice can take you down a road of hard lessons. After a build up of bad choices you've only earned your keep. The same is true of good choices. They build up and pay dividends. In the end my friend you will realize the great power that you've been given. The power of choice. You choose how you respond. You choose how you will take the lessons that you had to learn. A lesson learned is a blessing earned. A lesson that you refuse to learn by choice you learn by force. Or maybe you'll never learn

I don't know about you but I'll pass on the shackles, shakedowns, and the early graves looking to be filled.
It's all up to you what you do. It always has been.
But now I hope that you truly know it. Realize your Responsibility to act responsibly. Emid
